

DEADLINE EXTENDED! It's not too late to submit a video for the Virtual Forum of BCI Users at the 6th International Brain-Computer Interface (BCI) Meeting. The Virtual Forum of BCI Users debuted at the 5th International BCI Meeting in 2013 as an opportunity for BCI researchers to hear from people who need a BCI. We need your help to contact BCI users worldwide to get their input for the 2016 Forum.

In order to ensure the representation of users from a wide variety of BCI projects, we are soliciting videos of your study participants. One member of each participating team will sit on a panel and introduce their video(s) during the Forum, and will be listed as an author of the Forum in the conference proceedings. If we receive enough videos, they will be displayed during the poster sessions as well as the Forum.

Please visit <http://tinyurl.com/BCIMeeting2016RFV> for additional information, including instructions for creating and submitting videos. Videos must be submitted by May 2, 2016.

We look forward to seeing you in May, and sharing the perspectives of your study participants at the Virtual Forum.
