11th International
Brain-Computer
Interface (BCI) Meeting

June 2-5, 2025

Banff, Alberta, Canada

Dear Collaborators and Industry Partners,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to partner with us for the 11th International BCI Meeting to be held at the Banff Centre for Arts and Creativity in Banff, Alberta, Canada from June 2-5, 2025.

These are exciting times, as we witness the fusion of human cognition with cutting-edge smart technologies. The promise of direct connections between our brains and digital devices is becoming a reality. Companies across various industries are now actively integrating brain-computer interfaces (BCIs) into their strategic agendas. Effective BCI research depends on interdisciplinary interactions among neuroscientists, psychologists, engineers, applied mathematicians, computer scientists, psychiatrists, clinical rehabilitation specialists, patients, and other stakeholders. The 11th International BCI Meeting is the only venue that brings these groups together, and attendance has increased with the rapid growth of the field.

We anticipate that more than 400 delegates from BCI research groups, industry, and policymakers from around the world will converge to share knowledge and fresh ideas in the unique, highly interactive, student-friendly, retreat-like atmosphere that are the hallmarks of the BCI Meetings. The Meeting venue will provide ample space for exhibitors and sponsors to showcase your products and services, and to allow delegates and sponsors to network and interact.

BCIs hold immense promise in restoring communication and control for individuals with severe disabilities. By harnessing brain signals instead of relying on muscle movements, BCIs empower users to manipulate cursor movements, select options on computer screens, operate neuroprosthetic devices, and interact with a diverse range of other technologies. Notably, BCIs also extend the spectrum of interaction experiences for able-bodied individuals, ushering in a new era of human-computer connectivity.

Join us for an exciting meeting that highlights how BCI research is gaining momentum. Prepare for groundbreaking discoveries that will redefine how we connect mind and machine.

Unite, Innovate, Collaborate: To our sponsors and exhibitors, thank you! Let's continue our successful partnership. New organizations, join us—we're excited to collaborate!

We hope to see you next June for what promises to be a very enjoyable and productive 11th International BCI Meeting.

Regards,
The BCI Society

What is the 11th International BCI Meeting?

The International Brain-Computer Interface (BCI) Meetings is unique in providing an interdisciplinary, collaborative environment that convenes representatives from all fields involved in BCI research, including scientists, engineers, clinicians, policymakers, and users. Attendance has increased with the rapid growth of the field. Starting with fifty researchers participating in the first meeting in 1999, attendance has increased over the years to over 400 delegates in 2023. And guess what? We're gearing up for an even grander event in 2025!

The 2025 Meeting will update attendees on the present state of the field, address key issues critical to further progress, and promote the education and participation of young researchers.

The program will include keynote lectures from distinguished international guest speakers, a range of community-initiated workshops, demonstrations of functioning BCI systems, poster and oral presentations, master classes, as well as other highly interactive and engaging events. Our goal is to foster collaboration, exchange and networking between established investigators, postdoctoral fellows, graduate students and industry.

The 2025 Meeting Executive Team includes:

Conference Chair:	Mariska Vansteensel, University Medical Center Utrecht, Netherlands
Conference Co-Chair:	Marc Slutzky, Northwestern University, USA
Scientific Program Committee Chair:	Reinhold Scherer, University of Essex, United Kingdom
Scientific Program Committee Co-Chair:	Eli Kinney-Lang, University of Calgary, Canada
Young Talent Committee Chairs:	Robert Gaunt, University of Pittsburgh, USA Jennifer Collinger, University of Pittsburgh, Conference Chair

The overall conference planning process is organized by the BCI Society and the team at Podium Conference Specialists. We look forward to hosting you!

Support a Student or Attendee with Financial Hardships

The International BCI Meetings are known for their highly interactive, student friendly atmosphere. More than 50% of attendees are graduate students or postdoctoral fellows. They come from all over the world. Please consider supporting a student, or as many as you would like, by covering his/her cost of attending the Meeting.

$1,800/student

Recognition includes:

- Listing on the Student Sponsors page on the website and in the program
- Listing on on-site Student Sponsors signage
- Listing on the Student Sponsors holding slide

Consider supporting a non-trainee from developing countries, an attendee with financial hardships, or an attendee living with disabilities (attending the user forum) by covering his/her cost of attending the Meeting.

$1,800/attendee

Recognition includes:

- Listing on the Financial Support page on the website and in the program
- Listing on on-site Financial Support signage
- Listing on the Financial Support holding slide

Global BCI Plenary Session Sponsorship Opportunity

Support the first-ever Global BCI Session at the BCI meeting in 2025, dedicated to showcasing underrepresented researchers from around the World. You can sponsor an underrepresented researcher (speaker) from low- to middle-income countries to deliver a 15-minute talk about their BCI research and participate in an open round-table discussion on the challenges of conducting BCI research in low- and middle-income countries. The Global BCI Session is a plenary session taking part in the main program.

Please consider supporting a speaker, or as many as you would like, by covering his/her cost of attending the Meeting.

$1,800/speaker

Recognition includes:

- Listing on the Global BCI Session page on the website and in the program
- Listing on on-site Sessions Sponsors' signage
- Listing on the Sessions Sponsors holding slide

Communication and Advertisement Opportunities

E-blast feature (multiple available): $600/e-blast

- Exclusive eblast feature leading up to the 11th International BCI Meeting. 100-word description + hyperlinked logo
